Classes we recommend you take on FLVS: Electives for .5 credit

Career Research and Decision Making

This course will show you how to prepare for, get accepted and pay for college. You will explore different career and education pathways, study interview techniques and networking tips, create smart resumes, and learn how to plan for a successful future. Throughout the course you will be coached by Mawi Asgedom, a Harvard Graduate and student leadership expert who has trained more than 1 million students. Opportunity is knocking, are you ready?

Driver Education/Traffic Safety

Develop safe driving skills by studying the Highway Transportation System road signs, rules of the road and how to make good choices behind the wheel. This course covers the Florida Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles required completion of the Traffic Law Substance Abuse Education (TLSAE). Upon completion, receive a TLSAE certificate, a necessary step toward getting your learner's permit. Must be 14 and a half year old.

Law Studies

What are your rights as an American citizen? In this course, you will investigate aspects of family and consumer law, and learn how the state and federal court systems work. Gain an understanding of the judicial system and examine key differences between civil and criminal law. This course provides elective credit only.

Parenting Skills

Parenting involves more than having a child and providing food and shelter. Take this one-semester course to explore parenting roles and responsibilities, nurturing and protective environments for children, positive parenting strategies, and effective communication in parent/child relationships. This course provides elective credit only.

Peer Counseling 1

Recommended for the ELL (English Language Learner) student, this course will teach you many skills to help you succeed in all areas of your life. You will learn the importance of taking action, how to set goals and manage your time, and important steps in handling conflict resolution.

Personal and Family Finance

Why do we pay taxes? How do credit cards work? Learn proper money management skills and how to achieve financial success in this one-semester course. Find out how to avoid common financial mistakes, how to invest in your future, and how to manage your personal and family finances effectively. This course provides elective credit only.

Psychology

Where do thoughts and memories come from? What are emotions? And why do we behave the way we do? In Psychology 1, you will begin to understand the human mind by exploring the research and theories of some of the most brilliant psychologists throughout history. In addition, learn psychological tips that you can use every day, like how to cope and reduce stress. This course provides elective credit only.

Social Media 1

Explore your individual contribution and influential powers by identifying your digital imprint. In this course, you will examine the world through social media, where citizen journalism is the news, personal audiences are your critics and your supporters, and personal connection is subjective. This course provides elective credit only.
